Ted Back Home; Top Honors in Store for Him

Ted Lewis, who is back in his old hometown to receive honors at the local high school, is expected to receive more before the week is out.

Sources close to the BPO Elks Lodge say they expect the Circleville-born bandmaster to receive a special tribute Saturday evening at the annual convention of the Ohio Elks Assn.

The sources say Ted will be named to the "Ohio Elks Hall of Fame". The honor is to be announced at the 6 p. m. session of the state convention meeting in the Neil House in Columbus.

Circleville Elks Lodge officials are so certain that their nominee will garner the honor that they have reserved a suite of rooms on the fourth floor of the Neil House where they will pay special tribute to Ted following the evening ceremony.

TED is a 50-year member of the local lodge and last fall was made an honorary life member of the order.

In being named to the Elks Hall of Fame, Ted will join such luminaries as Baseball Great Billy Southworth, Football Coach Woody Hayes, Gov. James A. Rhodes and Dr. Edward McCormick of Toledo, first Ohio Elk ever named as grand exalted ruler of the BPOE.

In nominating Ted for the honor, local Elks cited his 50 years of lodge membership and the fact he always has been an enthusiastic ambassador for the state of Ohio and especially for his hometown. Invariably, he will ask his audiences: "Is anybody here from Circleville, my old hometown?"

The Ted Lewis nomination included the notation that the musician's first public appearance was the time he mortified his parents, who operated the Friedman Store on W. Main St., by leading a bloodhound in an Uncle Tom's Cabin parade down Circleville's main street.

Later he was to put together a jazzy clarinet, a moth-eaten high silk hat and some sentimental song - talk which has kept him in the spotlight long after it dimmed for most of his contemporaries.

He has played before nine presidents and a king of England, but he is interested only in his famous question: "Is everybody happy?" That is the chief reason why he has been nominated for the Elks Hall of Fame.

LOCAL ELKS are certain he will be enshrined in the honor which he will receive in the future in Columbus Saturday evening to cheer when the name of Ted Lewis is called.

Meanwhile, Roundtown's ambassador of happiness will attend the annual Spring Music Festival tonight at the Circleville High School Gymnasium where he will be guest of honor.

Although not scheduled to perform, he is expected to present a brief address encouraging passage of the Circleville School Bond Issue which is up for a vote at Tuesday's primary election. Reports indicated he would be accompanied tonight by M. E. Sensesbrenner, a Circleville native, now mayor of Columbus, and local Mayor Ben H. Gordon.

Living Cost Inches Up In March

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs inched up one-tenth of 1 per cent in March as prices rose for virtually all consumer items except food, the government reported today.

Lower food prices were offset by higher costs of housing, medical care, transportation and other basic items, bringing the consumer price index to 107.7.

This means that it now costs $10.77 to buy goods that cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

A Labor Department spokesman said costs could be expected to go up again for April, but he added "there is not the slightest indication of any serious inflation."

The spokesman, Deputy Commissioner Robert J. Myers of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said relatively stable prices during a general business upturn provided "a very reassuring performance."

Ex-Nazi Sergeant Gets 22 Life Sentences

BOCHUM, Germany (AP) — Former Nazi SS Sgt. Hermann Blache today was sentenced 22 times to life in prison for the wartime massacre of Polish Jews.

The sentence was the highest ever imposed by a German war crimes court. Blache was commander of a ghetto at Tarnow, in eastern Poland.

He was found guilty on 41 counts of murder and on more than 4,000 counts of complicity in murder.

Move To Stamp Out GOP Falters in Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The move to stamp out Republicanism in Mississippi with new election laws looked like another lost cause today.

The 22 bills backed by Gov. Paul Johnson, which passed the State Senate, ran into surprisingly strong opposition in the House.

After two straight setbacks in House votes, Rep. Roy Strickland, floor manager of the package of bills, showed little hope for future victory.

"I think Wirt Yerger, State Rep. M. L. McAllister and Sen. Dirksen have won their battle," he said.

Yerger is state GOP chairman. McAllister is the only Republican in the Mississippi

Quake Douses Alert Gear 7 Minutes

TOKYO (AP) — Gen. John K. Gerhart, commander in chief of the North American Defense Command, said today a power failure during the Alaska earthquake last month knocked a seven-minute hole in America's radar warning system against surprise attack.

Gerhart's disclosure to newsmen contradicted a Defense Department announcement shortly after the quake that the warning system across North America had continued to function normally.

Gerhart said generators at the warning installation at Clear, Alaska, broke down but power was swiftly restored.

"We cranked up and made the necessary repairs," he said. The general, who is completing a tour of U.S. bases in Asia and the Pacific, said there were no plans to construct "back-up" installations in the warning net. To duplicate the massive, expensive installations at Clear would serve no useful purpose, he said.

Gerhart said the Soviets appear to have some antimissile missiles but there is no indication a massive program is under way to produce them. He said he hoped there would be a decision on manufacture of U.S. antimissile missiles by the first of next year and that this gap would be filled by 1970 or 1971.

Orphans' Aide Gets Korea Grave

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Harry Holt, who spent his last 10 years caring for Korean orphans, will be buried Friday on a green Korean hillside among graves of the little ones he loved.

He will be buried in the cemetery of his orphanage at Ilsan, 10 miles north of Seoul. "This is as he wished," said a spokesman for Holt's widow, who arrived today from their farm at Creswell, Ore.

Holt died of a heart attack at the orphanage Tuesday. He first came to Korea in 1954 to adopt eight Korean orphans. He established the orphanage at Ilsan and set up an organization which placed more than 3,000 orphans in American homes.

Legislature. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., is the party's Senate minority leader.

The revolt against Johnson's election bills was signaled Tuesday when a key bill was sent back to committee for further study.

Rep. Abie Miller of Greene, told the House the move against the GOP "could upset bringing in industry to Mississippi."

Strickland's second defeat came Wednesday.

Key bills in the package would force the state's budding GOP to measure up to major party standards in organization and operation.

At present, the GOP couldn't make the grade.

The party made its first serious bid for the governorship in the last election, astounding Democrats by drawing almost a third of the votes. The proposed election laws were the reaction.

The key bill referred back to committee would set these standards:

Half the precincts in a county must stage precinct conventions before a county convention is valid.

Thirty of the state's 82 counties must stage valid county conventions before a state convention is valid.

The other key bill would force all candidates to run in primary elections, even if unopposed, and primary winners would have to draw at least 10 per cent of all votes cast in both party primaries to be eligible for the general election ballot.

Ohio Social Disease Rate On Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Infectious syphilis increased 44 per cent in Ohio during the first three months of 1964, compared to the same period in 1963, the state's health director reported today.

Dr. Emmett W. Arnold said the comparable figures for 1963 and 1964 were 97 cases and 140 cases, respectively.

He said this was a substantial rise, made even more dramatic by the fact that it represents a 112 per cent increase over the same period of 1962.

Dr. Arnold reported that gonorrhea cases, already at a record high in some Ohio cities also increased substantially — 2,844 cases from January through March 1964, as compared with 2,313 for the same period of 1963, an increase of 23 per cent.

The health director indicated that venereal diseases continue to affect mainly young adults under the age of 25 with "ever increasing numbers found among the teenage population."

900 Texas Steers Riding River Barge

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Nine hundred Santa Gertrudis steers from the King Ranch are on an Ohio River barge—probably near Ohio right now—on their 2,400-mile journey to pasture near Coatesville, Pa. This is the first load of King cattle shipped on the Ohio since an initial shipment last September.

Greeks Break Cyprus Truce

Turk Stronghold Suffers Shelling

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Mortar shelling by Greek Cypriots ringing St. Hilarion Castle today broke the cease-fire proclaimed by their government only 13 hours before.

The United Nations announced seven mortar shells were fired in 15 minutes at the Turkish Cypriot stronghold in the Kyrenia Mountains, resuming an offensive the Greek Cypriots have waged with the professed aim of clearing Turkish Cypriot gunposts from the Nicosia-Kyrenia highway and vantage points overlooking Greek villages.

There was no immediate report of damage to the castle.

A spokesman for the Greek Cypriot government expressed surprise at the U.N. announcement. He said that, so far as he knew, the cease-fire still was supposed to be in effect.

The United Nations thrust a new element into the confused situation. After telling of the shelling, the United Nations said it is going to set up permanent observation posts in the Kyrenia range, where it has been using patrols to try to stop the fighting.

"Now that President Makarios has ordered his government forces to cease fire in the area, it has been decided to convert these patrols into permanent U.N. posts in the area," it was announced. "It is hoped this cease-fire will be fully observed."

Two U.N. patrols came under fire in a continuation of the hostilities that U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant is seeking to end through a new nine-point peace plan, presented Wednesday to the Security Council in New York. There were no casualties in either case.

Canadians of the peace force drew fire on a visit to the Turkish village of Aghirda, in the Kyrenia foothills 10 miles north of Nicosia. Presumably the shots came from Greek Cypriot positions in the range overlooking the village. The Canadians did not return the fire.

A Swedish contingent disarmed a group of Cypriot fighters Wednesday night for the first time since the peace force went into operation March 27. The Swedes seized weapons from Greek Cypriots who apparently had fired on them in the mixed Greek-Turkish village of Timi, near the western port of Paphos.

A U.N. spokesman said the Swedes were attacked when they intervened to halt a gun fight between Greek and Turkish Cypriots. He said the Swedes fired 45 rounds before halting the fight.

Both the U.N. command and the Turkish Cypriots had looked with skepticism on the cease-fire, which was announced after both Thant and the U.N. command of Indian Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani put strong pressure on the Greek Cypriots to drop the Kyrenia campaign.

In Nicosia, the first reaction of the Makarios regime to Thant's call for peace was favorable. A government spokesman said the plan was constructive.

Escapee's Ruse Fools Jail Guard

DETROIT (AP) — A guard fired a warning shot Wednesday as prisoner Joseph Van Doren reached the barbed-wire top of a fence that surrounds the Detroit House of Correction.

"Stop shooting," the 19-year-old Detroit resident shouted, "I'm coming down."

The guard stopped.

Van Doren came down — on the outside of the fence.

Police are looking for him — to complete the 70-day jail term he got for escaping while serving time for a previous misdemeanor.

Famed Champion Stallion Dies at Van Camp Stable

George Van Camp and Steamin' Demon

Steamin' Demon, the world's champion double gaited harness horse, died yesterday of peritonitis resulting from a broken leg sustained two weeks ago at the Van Camp stables.

Owned by George W. Van Camp of Circleville, the Demon had marks of 1:59.1 in the trot and 1:58.4 in the pace.

His lifetime earnings on the race track totaled $242,486. The famous stallion had been retired to stud since 1961 at the Van Camp farm just north of Circleville on County Road 511.

HIS TROTTER mark was taken at Inglewood, Calif., Nov. 6, 1959. His record in the pace was set two years earlier, Oct. 1957, at Lexington, Ky. The combined times totaled 3:58, bettering the previous record of 3:58.3 set by Calumet Evelyn in 1936.

In 1960 Steamin' was named the Ohio Harness Horse of the year by the United States Trotting Assn. The Ohio Harness

Horsemen's Assn., Inc., named him the Aged Trotter of the year in 1960.

As a 3-year-old, he won 22 of 30 starts, placing second three times and third four times.

In 1959 he won $106,755, placing first, second or third in 14 of 25 starts. The following year he won $64,950 as a 7-year-old.

Bred through the Van Camp stables, Steamin' Demon was sired by Demon Hanover and was out of Conchita. His dam, also owned by Van Camp, died within the past year.

His maiden start was at a Pickaway County Spring Harness Matinee.

The famous stallion set many records during his career. Included are: the track pacing record at Hilliard Raceway, the champion double gaited mark for a colt on both a mile and half-mile track; the track trotting record at Brandywine Raceway and the track trotting record at Yonkers Raceway.

U.S. Tries Anew To Halt British Trade with Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U.S. officials are understood to have urged anew in private talks here this week that Britain revise its policy of trade with Cuba and support the U.S. effort to deny vitally needed industrial and transportation equipment to the Castro government.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk has held a series of discussions on world problems with British Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler. President Johnson had a conference with Butler Wednesday.

Officials have confirmed that Cuban issues were raised in the Rusk-Butler talks. The White House only said that the foreign secretary and the President discussed matters of mutual interest.

Butler has been in Washington for a conference of the Central Treaty Organization which ended Wednesday. He is going on to Japan and the Philippines for talks seeking some way to avoid a serious crisis between Indonesia and British-backed Malaysia over territorial claims pressed by Indonesia.

Butler is understood to be pleased by the support Britain has received from the United States in its efforts to preserve the territorial integrity of Malaysia.

Top U.S. officials by contrast are known to be displeased by Britain's Cuban trade policy which they regard as a breaking of the barrier of economic isolation from non-Communist trade which the United States has been working to build around Cuba.

Butler is believed to have been told, as U.S. officials have recently said publicly, that the denial of important industrial and transportation supplies to Castro is the only effective weapon presently available to the United States for countering Castro's attempts to spread communism in the Western Hemisphere through propaganda and subversion.

The British counterargument to the U.S. boycott policy is that the boycott is not really effective, that the United States trades with various Communist countries including the Soviet Union, and that Britain traditionally trades with all countries regardless of political considerations.

Britain made a deal with the Castro government last January to sell Cuba 450 buses and spare parts at a total cost in excess of $12 million. France followed with a deal to sell trucks to Castro. The United States protested against both sales.

Son Files $975,000 Suit against Father

CLEVELAND (AP) — Blaming his father for his own domestic troubles, Theodore W. Bowden filed a $975,000 damage suit Wednesday against his father, James J. Bowden of Corlant, president of Bradley Metal Co.

The son says he was fired from his job as vice president of Bradley Metal when he rejected his father's demands that he make a reconciliation with his wife. Theodore contended in his suit filed in Common Pleas Court that his father's interference actually placed any reconciliation beyond reach and estranged his three brothers and three sisters as well.

Castro Vague On Weapons

Army To Take Over Soviet Rockets

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro said Wednesday night Cuba will try to prevent U.S. reconnaissance flights over this island "to the limits of what our weapons can do."

But in remarks to diplomats and newsmen attending a Japanese diplomatic reception, he did not specify if that means Cuba will use Soviet rockets to try to bring down U.S. U2 planes.

The United States has announced it will continue such flights despite Cuban protests and Soviet support of the protests.

Castro said Cuba "will not surrender an inch in the problem of flights." He said "we will defend our sovereignty whatever it may cost and wherever it may happen."

Castro talked for almost four hours with a group of foreign newsmen and diplomats, including the Japanese, Soviet and Swiss ambassadors, at the National Day reception in the Japanese Embassy.

He sipped brandy and soda slowly as he talked. He was in good humor.

He said any responsibility for any incident that may arise from the flights could lie with the United States.

He declared that the air surveillance "cannot be imposed on Cuba indefinitely."

When asked if ground-to-air rockets now controlled by the Russians are going to be turned over to the Cuba army he answered emphatically that those rockets "will be handed over to Cuba."

He did not specify any date. (Continued on Page 16)

Lady Godiva Sans Horse Causes Rush

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — It wasn't exactly the rush hour — 5 a.m. — but it turned out that way.

A frantic waitress called police early today to report a nude woman, no other description, was sitting in one of the booths at her restaurant.

The waitress, Juanita Conn, said the Lady Godiva — minus steed — had just strolled in, pretty as you please and sat down.

Cook Jennie Davis rushed from the kitchen to join the few early-bird customers who had their mouths open but weren't eating.

In all the excitement, the bare lady apparently became impatient because she was gone when police arrived.

They found no clothes — or white horse — stashed anywhere around the restaurant. They theorized — hopefully — the woman had picked them up since it was a chilly 50 degrees.

Anti-Bond Issue Suit Condemned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe has charged that a suit challenging the state's $250 million capital improvement bond issue was "conceived in malice and prosecuted with facetiousness."

Saxbe made his charge Wednesday in arguments before the Ohio Supreme Court.

The suit, brought by Paul J. Lynch, a Columbus school teacher and former state legislator, has held up further allocation of funds approved by Ohio voters last November. Some of the money is scheduled for expansions and plans at state universities.

Lynch's attorney, Theodore Saker, argued that a 1963 law illegally delegated power to the state to reimpose an old penny-a-pack cigarette tax to pay off a $150 million issue in 1955 and the $250 million issue.

Two Issues To Appear on Primary Ballot

City School Board Repeats Bond Issue For 3 New Buildings

Voters will be confronted with two special issues when they go to the polls Tuesday.

First of the two issues will be decided by Circleville School District voters, while the second (which will appear as No. 1 on the ballot) will be voted on by all Ohio voters.

The School bond issue (issue No. 2) is being placed before voters for the second time. It was defeated in November by a very small margin. School board members and the administration have been conducting a campaign to inform voters as to the critical needs that would be provided by the bond issue. Superintendent Fritz Jacobs said today he would be available to answer any questions concerning the issue that have not been answered to date.

The $1,968,000 issue will provide funds for a new three-year high school, do away with the district's three oldest buildings (Franklin, High Street and Walnut elementary schools), as well as provide equipment for the new facilities and for additions to existing buildings.

MILLAGE for the bond issue will average 3.575 mills for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to 35.75 cents for each one hundred dollars of valuation for a maximum period of 22 years to pay the principal and interest of the bonds.

Issue No. 1 on Tuesday's ballot is a proposed state constitutional amendment. The issue asks that the constitution of Ohio be amended to authorize the state to issue and sell bonds to provide funds for highways.

The $500 million issue will be paid from fees, excises or license taxes relating to registration, operation, or use of vehicles on public highways and from taxes on gasoline and other fuels used by motor vehicles.

CHICAGO (AP) — Three robbers hijacked a truck loaded with nearly three tons of silver bullion valued at $75,000 to $100,000 Wednesday.

The truck driver, Salvatore Lavallo, 50, who was held captive by the robbers for nearly two hours, was within a few blocks from his destination when he was met by the hijackers on the South Side.

The 75 bars of silver were to have been delivered to a plant of the National Lead Co. The silver had been shipped from the U.S. Metals Refining Co., Carteret, N.J.

Police later recovered the empty truck.

Appeal Made for Special Blood Types

Dr. Charlotte Winnemore, director of the Columbus Regional Blood Center, advised the Pickaway County Chapter today that a critical shortage of both 0-positive and 0-negative blood exists at the center.

It has been necessary to postpone several surgeries which required these types during the past few days, she informed the local unit. Also, several open-heart surgeries are scheduled during the next few weeks which require 0 and A negative blood types. It is usually necessary to have at least 25 pints of the needed type on hand before these surgeries can be scheduled, Dr. Winnemore said.

Families and friends of patients who have received blood transfusions may make replacements at any visit of the Bloodmobile, no matter where the blood may have been received. Also, a donor may credit an organization or business as a recruitment contact and designate the donation as a replacement for an individual, if he so desires.

The Bloodmobile will visit here from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. tomorrow at the service center of the First EUB Church. Walk-in donors are welcome, local blood program officials said.

Law is the bedrock underlying our form of government and our whole social order. It has been a cohesive and dynamic force in our national life, and in the lives of each of us as individuals. Preserving and strengthening the rule of law is vital to our nation's future. That is why the Congress has set aside May 1 as Law Day USA, a day of rededication to the ideals of freedom and justice and for "the cultivation of that respect for law which is so vital to the democratic way of life."

Ambitions for Retirement

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—What do you plan to do if and when you retire?

That seems to be the most popular topic of conversation in America now.

It isn't limited to older people. The second question a college graduate asks during job interviews now is, "How soon can I retire?" The first question is, "When can I begin my four-week vacation?"

Experts say you should have set goals for your twilight years, that you should map your retirement program early. This seems to be about what nine-tenths of America's employed class—from hired hand to board presidents—are doing. Most of them enjoy doing it on company time, too. Nothing makes the working day go faster than day—dreaming what you're going to do when Uncle Sam delivers that first Social Security check.

Here are a few of my retirement ambitions:

Settle a problem that has been bothering science for a long time: Whether it's more fun to rock north and south in a rocking chair, or east and west.

Eat an eel in England, a snail in France, a baby octopus in Italy, and a suckling pig at a luau in Honolulu.

Be the first man over 65 in my neighborhood to learn to play the ukelele.

Learn to pitch an honest game of horseshoes.

Build two bird houses and

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Does everybody need the same amount of sleep? Are there different levels of profound and light sleep? Does everybody dream? Can the need for sleep be reduced by special training?

Answers to these and a wide range of related questions are being sought in a concentrated study at the University of Florida College of Medicine.

Volunteer medical students are being subjected to brain wave studies during sleep in specially constructed, sound-proof, and temperature-controlled rooms. Often they are interrupted in the middle of a lovely dream and abruptly awakened for testing of their coordination and speed of response.

Already the information gathered seems to indicate that there are four levels of depth of sleep. These range from the very light sleep to the deep sleep.

Interesting findings show that every individual has his own sleep patterns that hardly vary from one night to the next. It is estimated that most people have about two hours of concentrated "deep" sleep each night.

Almost invariably, this deep stage occurs in the very beginning of sleep. This period, apparently, is the most restful part of the entire night's sleep.

The popular impression that dreams are instantaneous and last only a few seconds seems to be a myth that may soon be disproved. It is estimated that dreams last an average of 10 to 40 minutes and rarely occur in the first hour and a half of sleep.

These studies are giving physicians a greater insight into the mechanism of sleep and the means for restful sleep without the need for artificial barbiturate and tranquilizing sleep-inducers.

There is great reason for optimism in today's approach to the prevention of rheumatic fever. Penicillin and other antibiotics are exceedingly effective in the destruction of the streptococcus germ, known to be the most frequent cause of rheumatic fever.

Severe throat infection and tonsillitis harbor the streptococcus. Since antibiotics so readily destroy this bacteria, early treatment by a physician will almost always interrupt the progress of infection.

Repeated attacks of rheumatic fever can damage the delicate heart valves and the heart muscle itself. This damage is the cause of rheumatic heart disease.

Doctors do not believe that heredity is an important factor in rheumatic fever or in rheumatic heart disease.

Prevention is the keyword in the interruption of the cycle of neglected sore throats and bouts of rheumatic fever.

Emphasis on prevention is imperative of rheumatic fever and its complication, rheumatic heart disease, are to continue to be gratifyingly reduced in frequency.

It must be emphasized for assurance that not every sore throat in a child should be regarded fearfully as the forerunner of trouble.

Care, not fear, is the essence of preventive medicine.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

As readers know the Circleville Booster Club assists in the promotion of Circleville High School athletics.

In recent months the Club spirit and its support have been waning. This is not unusual since spring sports are not as spectacular as football and basketball.

I am concerned that very few former high school athletes have an interest in this organization, outside of the purchase of a membership in the fall each year. Of even greater concern is the small number of parents who are active in the attendance and functions of our Club.

Why do parents not actively seek to promote one of the most important character building programs for high school students? There is no single answer to this question.

Our Club is not one of prestige. It is often difficult to feel a satisfaction of accomplishment, but the gratitude is in seeing the young men mature through participation in the athletic programs which our club promotes.

This year we have spent $816.09 in direct assistance to high school athletics and $317.77 for banquets and awards. Over 90 per cent of all funds are directed to athletic promotion.

Our Club meetings are infrequent and conducted informally. Each meeting date is publicized in the newspaper showing date, place and time.

Our sincere wish is that every one with an interest in local athletics would attend a Booster Club meeting this spring.

BOB CHAPMAN

President

Circleville Booster Club

To the Editor:

Can we afford the proposed new school bond issue? This question confronts us very personally, as one of the major individual property owners within the Circleville School District.

The issue is deep and far reaching. After due analysis and deliberation, weighing the increased cost against benefits derived, we have reached a decision. This is strictly a dollar and cents approach.

The world has changed more in the last 10 years than any like period in history. We must run like the devil to keep from going backwards. A community no longer stands still or maintains a status quo. It either grows or becomes stagnant.

The growth in an area depends today upon a figure known as gross product income, which measures production with available employees and their ability to produce.

At the present rate of growth, this community will double in population by the turn of the century. This means the necessity of more industry to provide income for a growing population. When there are more job seekers than jobs, wages fail to keep pace. Welfare rolls increase and business declines.

One of the foremost items of consideration for locating an industry, is the condition of its school system. And let us not forget that large industry today can leave a community over night, if living conditions deteriorate.

Therefore, every job holder, business man and property owner can be affected by the condition of our school system whether or not they have children of school age.

So, we contend, that the moderate increase in taxes will more than return in protecting jobs and income of wage earners, property value of real estate and product sales of local business and industry.

Further, we believe our local schools are being operated in a frugal and efficient manner by the present administrators. Before we criticize their actions, let us consider all the facts and ask ourselves "could we have done better?" The members of our school board are property owners and successful businessmen and women. We personally respect their judgment.

In view of these comments, it is our opinion that we cannot afford to vote no. Low taxes mean nothing if income is too low to pay them.

Let us not stumble over the dollars to save pennies.

The Ingenious Railroads

By John Chamberlain

Now that the railroads seem to be off the hook after the meditation of the labor crisis in the White House, they are free to resume their unending battle to survive as a rigorously controlled industry in a world that keeps a much looser rein on Jimmy Hoffa's truckers.

For some railroads, such as the New Haven, the struggle often seems hopeless. But others are manifesting considerable ingenuity in waging their fight for competitive survival in spite of having to get permission from the Interstate Commerce Commission to change their rates, or to discontinue unprofitable runs, or to engage in piggy-backing activities.

Their gallantry and cleverness receive rueful tribute from sources that stand to profit from railroad failures. Last week I asked Gerard Ives, who has been immersed in atomic power plant investment activities for the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, what the prospects were for getting more and more cheap electricity from the atom. Mr. Ives winced. The outlook for atomic investment would be better, he said, if it were not for the truly remarkable economies made by the railroads in their handling of bulk coal shipments to conventional coal-burning power plants.

Coal, as it turns out, is merely one source of business for the newly competitive railroads. The recent Teamster Union wage hikes, which have added to the cost of long distance truck hauling, have helped to set things up for some recently devised rail methods of moving dry bulk materials. These materials include phosphates, fertilizers, lime, cement, flour, feed grains, sugar and plastic powders, and pellets of all kinds.

The trick, as developed by the New York Central Railroad for one, is to combine rail and short-haul truck activity without wasting hundreds of labor-hours in transferring dry bulk stuff from one means of conveyance to another. The Central has developed great pneumatic hoses which are able to transfer twenty tons of dry bulk commodities from a 125-ton hopper car to a short-haul highway trailer truck in less than ten minutes. Only one man is needed to handle the transfer.

This so-called Flexi-Flo process is very likely to change the industrial map of the United States. For example, cement plants have been almost universally situated close to cheap water transport.

There are, however, regions where limestone, which constitutes 75 percent of the raw materials that go to make up cement, is not close to water. The state of Ohio has rich limestone sites, notably in Delaware County, that stand to benefit greatly from the new low-cost methods of transporting bulk materials by rail and short-haul truck.

Only last week the country was trembling lest a national rail strike should bring the economy to a standstill. Of course there would have been some continuing movement of goods by long-haul truck and barge. The truth is that we do have competition between various means of transport, which means that a total tie-up of the country is unlikely.

The fears of crippling partial tie-ups, however, are always there, and it is often said that if Hoffa were to strike the long-haul truck companies it would do irreparable damage to the economy. One significance of the new methods of transporting dry bulk materials by rail is that a Hoffa-inspired strike will have fewer terrors.

The interesting thing about all this is that it proves that competitive capitalism has even more lives than the proverbial cat. In the case of the railroads it can even survive eighty years of semi-paralyzing supervision by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Now that President Lyndon Johnson had successfully handled the railroad labor unions, he should turn his attention to the I.C.C. The railroads are ingenious, but they have enough to contend with in fighting trucks and airplanes without having to survive their own regulators.

SARA DRESBACH

Two Democrats are seeking their party's nomination for the position of clerk of Common Pleas Court.

Voters Tuesday will not have a choice for the GOP nomination. Mrs. Sarah Dresbach, long time employee of the court, stands unopposed on the ballot.

Democrats seeking the office are Roger E. Bowers, Route 3, and E. W. Weiler, 355 Markley Road.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here is the official U. S. Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

Sunrise again was hidden from view this morning as a gloomy combination of low clouds, fog and light precipitation covered the state.

At 6 a.m., Columbus had 52 with fog, Toledo 49 with light rain, Cleveland 48 and cloudy, and Cincinnati 45 and partly cloudy.

A stagnant low pressure area refused to move from its position over Lake Michigan, therefore cloudy skies accompanied by light showers, rain or drizzle will continue to blanket Ohio today and Friday.

Temperatures will remain on the cool side with nighttime ranges in the upper 40s and lower 50s and daytime ranges in the upper 50s and lower 60s.

Nation's Highway Kill Is Smashing Previous Records

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic toll still is zooming at a rate that is smashing all previous records.

The National Safety Council, in so reporting Wednesday, said fatalities in March totaled 3,420. That was 7 per cent above the figure for March of 1963.

The Council issued a ranking of leading cities in traffic safety during the first quarter of 1964. The cities and their deaths per 10,000 registered vehicles included:

Group 2—750,000 to 1 million: Cleveland 3.4, Columbus, Ohio 1.1, Youngstown, Ohio, 4.

Many cities in the smaller population brackets had no traffic deaths during the first quarter.

Merger Plans Cool Tension On Zanzibar

ZANIBAR (AP) — Tension has relaxed on this island now merged with neighboring Tanganyika.

Troops in Cuban-style uniforms and armed with Soviet weapons, kept mostly to their camps on the outskirts of the town. There were reports that they may be disarmed in the next few days.

The road from the airport is lined with bamboo and palm frond arches in preparation for a big May Day parade.

Effigies depicting the overthrow of the sultan's old government by the January revolution stood by the side of the road.

The golf course, which will be the scene of a big May Day ceremony, is surrounded with flagstaves from which the flags of many nations, including the United States and Britain, hung limply.

The United States representative here handed over the keys of the American tracking station building to Zanzibar's president. All equipment already has been taken off the island.

In the last week the radio and government papers have toned down on anti-American propaganda which for months has been describing the tracking station as a rocket base.

Now there are only 800 in Zanzibar's detention camps compared with a peak of 2,600.

"You actually see people smiling and talking to each other in the street," said one British resident.

The European and Asian communities are immensely relieved by the union with Tanganyika.

Sociology Students Get State Offer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction is re-establishing and broadening a program of summer jobs for college students.

Graduate and undergraduate students majoring in sociology and psychology are being offered jobs in state institutions for the summer. Director Martin A. Janis said. About 20 to 25 will be employed, he said.

Lynn Timmons, department personnel and training coordinator, said the idea is to give the students practical experience, provide help during vacation season and recruit new talent.

Janis said a department stipendiary program, under which tuition and some living expenses are paid for selected students in return for their coming to work for the department, will be re-stored soon.

It has been suspended for about a year. Janis said he is waiting for a report on results of the program in the past.

Women-Doer Is Liked By Lady Bird

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson likes to meet women who are doing things. That's what her "women-doer" luncheons are all about.

Tuesday, 17 women were invited to the fourth of these luncheons which now are becoming the subject of White House fan mail and growing interest.

At first, the guest lists were compiled from people Mrs. Johnson knew or had heard about. Now, they have grown to include many persons suggested by letter writers.

White House social secretary Bess Abell has a file of 150 suggested names. Mrs. Johnson likes to keep a balance so that not all are from the same walk of life or geographical area.

The cross-section of women-doers Tuesday included singer Marian Anderson, ballerina Maria Tallchief, Kentucky Commissioner of Commerce Katherine Peden and authoress Katharine Anne Porter.

The spotlight speaker was Kate Tuchman, principal of P.S. 184 in a crowded Harlem district of New York City, who

A juicy sirloin or a family-sized roast beef may prove to be a bargain this week as well as a treat.

Protein foods, particularly red meat and eggs, continue to share the spotlight at many supermarket counters. Increasingly abundant supplies of fresh fruit and vegetables play a colorful supporting role.

One national supermarket chain is offering sirloin at 85 cents a pound at its New York City area outlets, down 10 cents a pound from last week. Oven-ready rib roast has been marked down to 63 cents a pound at the same markets, a 16-cent reduction from the week before.

Poultry buyers should find both turkeys and chicken plentiful this weekend.

As for weekend specials, a government survey of 30 stores indicated that thrifty shoppers can cut their food bill perhaps by 6 per cent by taking advantage of them.

Ohio Solon Seeks To Replace U.S. State Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to abolish the State Department and replace it with a department of foreign affairs was introduced Wednesday by Rep. Samuel L. Devine, R-Ohio.

The change, Devine told the House, would not interfere in any way with the President's direction of foreign policy but would give him "an opportunity, for the first time in generations, to have a free hand to create a department to deal with out international relations."

The President, he added, "will not be burdened with the career, sedentary odd-ball, self-satisfied empire building bureaucrats that have inflated the State Department to a point where, rather than the executive or legislative branch of the government, they dictate United States policy and direction."

Be glad you have the economical heat—GAS

If you had wire resistance heat, this situation would send your heating bills sky-rocketing. But not with gas. Gas heat is so thrifty, it can take the in-and-out traffic of an active family without wrecking the budget. You don't need expensive extra insulation to conserve heat, as you do with resistance heat. A forced-air gas heating system carries warm, fresh filtered air to every room in the house, including the basement. No layers of still air, where uncomfortable cold spots develop. And all this can be done with just one thermostat for the whole house. Individual room heating is old-fashioned. You don't need it with thrifty gas. When you want to convert to whole-house gas air conditioning, a compact gas cooling unit added to your modern forced-air gas heating system can do the job quickly and inexpensively.

Guild Plans Bake Sale

Final plans for a bake sale May 9 at the Appliance and Refrigeration Store, W. Main St., were made when members of Berger Hospital Guild No. 43 met in the guild room.

Mrs. Iris Imler was welcomed as a new member. Eloise Ford, president, conducted the business meeting. Members will meet May 27 at Tink's Tavern for dinner.

Refreshments were served to nine members by Patty Manson and Betty Caudill.

Kingston Sunday School Class Holds Session

Hostesses for a meeting of the Ne Plus Ultra Sunday School Class, Kingston, were Mrs. Barton Whitten, Mrs. Albert Kerns, Mrs. Jack Donahue, Miss Mildred Holderman and Miss Margaret Thomas.

Mrs. L. E. Kerns presided during the session. Devotions were given by Mrs. Paul Hankins who used as her topic, "Springtime Reveals a Glimpse of a Renewed Life." She read a poem entitled, "I Saw God Wash the World."

Members voted to give $100 for the budget of the church. A strawberry and ice cream social was planned June 3 with a cafeteria style lunch beginning at 5:30 p. m.

A silent auction was held following the meeting. Refreshments were served.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

It's in the Past!

DEAR ABBY: What do you do when you finally find out that what you had suspected deep down in your heart was true? My sister-in-law telephoned the other day to inform me that my husband had an affair about a year ago with a supposedly good friend of mine. She said she and her husband had known about it all along. Suddenly, a lot of things began to fit into place, such as cancelled checks made out to strange places, and several unexplained late evenings. Each time I confront my husband with the accusation, he denies it. I would gladly give him the benefit of the doubt, but there is no doubt, can't raise four children alone. Do I just forgive and forget?

HEARTBROKEN
DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Yes. Obviously your husband wants to forget, too, but when you try to get a confession out of him, he can't forgive. Truly forgive. Only then will you be able to forget.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are both in our mid-40's. We are neat dressers, and everyone compliments us on how "young" we look. Whenever we go out, my husband spots a "friend" at another table, and up he jumps, leaving me to sit alone anywhere from 15 minutes to half an hour. When I complain he gets mad and says he likes to talk to his friends. What's bugging him anyway? This has been going on for years.

LEFT SITTING
DEAR LEFT: If your table-hopping husband is running for office, grin and bear it. But if he's just a friendly-type guy who likes to talk to his "friends," tell him that you are his best friend and you didn't go out to sit alone.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 12 and my brother was 10, our father died. Our mother married again, and she stayed married to this man until she died. At the time of her death neither my brother nor I could afford to buy her a headstone. Now we have the money and want to buy her one, but here is the problem: We want our mother's FIRST HUSBAND's name on the headstone instead of her second husband's. After she died, we never saw our step-father again. Our family did not care especially for my mother's first husband (our real father), or her second husband, so they want us to put her MAIDEN name on the headstone. Since my brother and I are paying for it, we think we should be able to put what we want on it. What is your opinion?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: It will be YOUR headstone over YOUR mother's grave. Put on it what you will.

Home Sewing Discussion Set Tomorrow

Miss Roberta Huber, educational representative for McCall's Patterns, will present a demonstration talk 8 p. m. tomorrow at the 4-H and Grange Building, Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

The program is presented in cooperation with the Pickaway County Extension Service.

Miss Huber will explain important points in choosing the correct line, color and texture for an individual look when making clothes. She will display several different costumes giving the audience an opportunity to examine them and ask questions.

Luncheon Planned By Guild No. 28

Members of Berger Hospital Guild No. 28 will meet 1:30 p. m. Tuesday for a luncheon at the Pickaway Country Club.

Meeting Postponed

The meeting scheduled Monday for members of the Monday Club has been postponed until May 11.

west of Circleville on U. S. Route 22.

With aviation interest showing a renaissance here, Ostrander decided to provide additional flying service on the local scene. He previously had acquired a commercial pilot's license and has permits for charter service, crop dusting and aerial sign-towing.

Heretofore, Pickaway counties who wanted to take flying lessons had to seek the services of instructors in Columbus or Chillicothe. Some went as far afield as the Wilmington area.

Ostrander, who has logged nearly 700 hours of flying time since he soloed in 1953, already has a burgeoning flying school established at Thomas Field.

The school is made up of nine active student pilots who are not yet qualified to solo, two student pilots ready to be recommended for their private licenses, one planning to take advance instruction toward a commercial license and six fledglings ready for basic ground instruction.

Ostrander, soft-spoken by nature, takes his flying seriously. He expects his students to have the same frame of mind.

Individuals seeking to enter the Ostrander school will first be subjected to a thorough personality check before admission. The frivolous need not apply.

Kentucky Collegians Offer People-to-People Aid Plan

HYDEN, Ky. (AP) — Like knights of old, college students sally forth each weekend to help the distressed mountain folk of eastern Kentucky.

Instead of armor, they wear sweat shirts and blue jeans. They carry hammers and nails, and bring, among other things, big sheets of wallboard.

The students call themselves the Appalachian Volunteers, a loosely knit group from 19 colleges who want to do their bit to help.

"We don't have any membership as such. No one carries any kind of membership card," Milton Ogle, director of the group, said.

But what began as a spark with four students three months ago has fanned into a flame involving more than 100 students working on six to eight projects every Saturday.

As a starter, the group decided to work on some of the 1,004 one-room schools in eastern Kentucky, many of them sorely in need of repair. They have organized recreation and health education at some of the schools.

"It's sort of a people-to-people program," Ogle said. The volunteers go only to communities where local residents will pitch in and help.

A $50,000 grant from the Federal Area Redevelopment Administration and donations from private individuals and firms finance the project. The grant is earmarked for salaries. Private donations buy materials.

The students receive only gasoline money and lunch.

The decision on which schools will be worked upon, Ogle said, is made on the answers to these questions:

1. Will the school be eliminated through consolidation within one year? If so, no work.
 2. Is the school genuinely in need of repair?
 3. Is it reasonably close to the campus from which the volunteers will come?
 4. Are the county school board and local residents willing to cooperate?
- If the answers to the last three questions is yes, then the volunteers try to work it into their schedule.

What's Best Lupine Soil?

Horticulturist Says
Alkaline Needed

A widespread theory exists in this area that lupines need an acid soil.

Few if any gardeners in this county have consistent good luck with this beautiful leguminous plant that grows in stately spikes. It has been generally conceded that the lack of county gardeners regarding lupines was bad because soil here is not extremely acid.

Along comes Frank S. Curto, nationally known horticulturist, who says that he includes lupines among the plants that are demanding in their requirement of an alkaline soil.

Most interesting to me! I checked with him to see if I heard him right and I did.

SO LET'S incorporate lime in our lupine soil and see what happens.

Victor Riess, Columbus authority on horticulture, believed at one time that lupines did well only where they could have cool nights.

I have seen lupines growing in rich abundance between Toledo and Cleveland. And since Frank Curto's statement, it comes to me that Carey and towns in the limestone area are where I saw these beds of lupines.

But Curto's theory of growing lupines in an alkaline soil interests me tremendously.

Lupines, at best, are not long lived, according to the New Illustrated Encyclopedia of Gardening. After a period of three or four years they dwindle and may as well be pulled because they will never recover their vigor.

Rhubarb King Of Kingston Gives Advice

The Rhubarb King of Kingston, Merle C. Routt, 34 E. Pickaway St., has some easy to follow but rather unorthodox advice to give on raising rhubarb.

Routt has his plants along his fence — 125 feet of thriving rhubarb. He started his planting about 25 years ago when he first moved to his present home.

And Kingston natives know just where to go when they want to make a pie early in the spring.

No, it is not a commercial project. Routt just gives the rhubarb to friends and acquaintances. He usually does not bother selling it.

However last year he did sell some plants to a gardener.

Routt covers his planting in fall with leaves. Every now and then when he has it available he fertilizes the rhubarb.

Here's the real trick to his success with pie plant, says the Rhubarb King: Early in spring take a spade and split each plant. Don't be afraid — just let go with the spade and make sure the plants split.

"Rhubarb," says Routt, "will die out if you do not take this precaution." He ought to know. He's provided Kingston people with it now for 25 years.

Bartley Shows Viburnums To Instructor

Edward Hauser, instructor of biological sciences at Kent State University, was in Pickaway County early Thursday morning. In fact he was here the Thursday before, too.

Hauser is a specialist in Viburnum. Dentatum Complex and he arrived early on the two Thursdays to meet with Floyd Bartley who was to introduce him to places, mostly in Jackson County, where the viburnums grow.

By the end of the first Thursday's ramble he had 60 or more cuttings. These he will root and make use of in his study of the plant. According to Hauser he first encountered the viburnum when he did his Master's research project in connection with the Ohio Flora Project. He specializes in the viburnum group within the Caprifoliaceae family.

We asked Edward Hauser how he knew about Pickaway County's beloved and revered naturalist, Floyd Bartley.

HIS ANSWER was that they had become acquainted through correspondence. Dr. Warren H. Wagner of Michigan State, Dr. T. Richard Fisher of Ohio State and Dr. J. Arthur Herrick of Kent State University had all known that Bartley was the man who knew where to find viburnum in Ohio.

Garden Gossip

Red Emperor tulips might be considered the unofficial flower of the city of Circleville. It seems every yard has some. Best of all these bulbs last four or five years which is more than you can say for other tulips.

The would be oil barons in our township are mighty excited about the orange ribbons strung on the fences ever so often. Word was out that the oil companies were surveying. Some folks are just satisfied with lease money, but there are quite a few of us who are planning on oil wells.

Imagine, then, our deflated spirits when it got around that the ribbons were put there by road surveyors.

But Joe Stump, who can always be counted on to know what's really going on, says the oil companies were making the road surveys. As soon as they finish the roads they'll survey the fields, he says.

As I say, we oil barons have a great time of it. In January a helicopter flew very low over the farms around here. Somebody got the idea it was the oil company seismographing the land.

Later it was said that a jet had lost a door and the copter was flying low looking for it. Since jets are always crisscrossing above us, this was a mighty uncomfortable feeling.

We thought surely we had caught Myrtle Noggle embellishing her garden with "permanent" flowers. There was a bright pink flower blooming in the Noggle garden and each branch had a Kelly green tuft at the end. It was without doubt the most unusual plant we had ever seen. Actually it was one of Armstrong's dwarf Bonanza peaches.

The Noggles know everybody and everybody knows the Noggles. At the flower show school, Mrs. Mark Russell sent them a message when she heard they were leaving in June for Europe: "tell them to live it up."

It was a typographical error. The Jim Sheas are not planting Grandad roses but Granada roses. Granada was an ARS winner last year. Come to think of it Grandad might be a very good name for a rose.

The Donald Watts on N. Court St., have made interesting use of the flowering quince. They have a clipped flowering quince hedge. Very smart looking.

Miss Hazel Marie Williams has a flower quince which is nothing short of glorious planted near her house in Whisler. They grow to monstrous size.

Flowering quince blooms on old wood, so don't expect too much of it the first year after a good pruning.

The Paul Hangs on Union St. have lots of flowers. Paul says the yard is essentially a playground and he is surprised himself when he sees his flowers.

Mrs. Cora Haecker's flowering crab is at its loveliest. An early bloomer, it seems to be just a little ahead of most crabs. She lives at 166 E. High St.

Wilhelmina Haecker has a cabin in the hills where daffodils are naturalized. I would indeed love to see them. Last year she had brought some of the finer blossoms home. These I did see.

Mrs. Reginald Blue, Frankfurt, had sent a display of daffodils to the flower show school. The instructor had specimens of every variety he needed. Mrs. Blue planned to enter specimens at Kingwood Center this last Sunday.

The flowering crabapple at the First National Bank is blossoming with great verve, considering this is its first

Brehmer Says

EDITOR'S NOTE — Robert Brehmer, well known florist and nurseryman in this area, consistently gives wise gardening advice. Not an optimist as far as the amateur grower is concerned, his column is slanted towards the backyard gardener. He'll never give a "bum steer" or encourage persons to grow things that will be more pain than pleasure.

It is suggested that if you have crocus, tulip or daffodils in your yard that to get better blooms each year, be careful not to cut off the foliage of the bulbs until they have turned brown.

Food to build a stronger bulb is manufactured in the leaves after the blooms are gone.

If the bulbs have been in the same location for many years, and there is a lot of grassy foliage around the main bulbs, it is time to dig them after the foliage is dried, store them in a cool basement and divide the clusters for replanting next fall.

The lily you got at Easter (since the Second World War) is hardly outdoors. Plant the bulb slightly deeper than it is in the pot; plant where it is not too shady and where water does not stand after a rain.

Before World War II, Japanese grown lilies were used for Easter. These are not hardy in our climate.

Ships loaded with lily bulbs were on the way to our country when war was declared. The ships were obliged to return to Japan.

The United States Department of Agriculture had been experimenting with types of lilies suitable for Easter forcing. The Croft lily was developed under USDA supervision on the west coast in Oregon and Washington.

It has proven more satisfactory than those imported from Japan.

The difference between the ordinary lily and those grown especially for Easter is that those most suitable for Easter are shorter growing, and the flower clusters develop all at one time.

St. says that this past winter has not been as hard on his roses as he had feared. Some he has replaced. His lilies will be in bloom this week. His tulips and daffodils have just finished blooming and his climbing strawberries are in blossom. As to the vining strawberries, he can't say too much for the vine but the berries produced are excellent.

Mrs. E. K. Black, 304 E. Mound, says a friend of hers traveling in Spain saw many fruiting strawberries climbing on patio walls.

The David Cravens, Lynwood Ave., have four flowering crabs in bloom now.

year n this present location.

We think the planting at First National is a fine example of business landscaping. The Lavelle Hawthorne had fruit on it until the first terrible freeze.

Floyd Bartley saw a flock of golden plovers on the Dresbach farm. The plovers often stay for a week or two before they migrate further.

Floyd also saw a half-acre swamp aglow with marsh marigolds. A lovely sight, he said!

Just let me say something is rare and only seen in a certain garden and I am sure to run across it somewhere else. The Emmitt Barnharts on Northridge Road have winter aconites. The Noggles, we thought, had the only winter aconites around.

The Barnharts have blue spruce on either side of their front walk. They are exactly the same size. All too frequently plant material which is supposed to provide symmetrical balance grows unevenly.

Mrs. Maxine Dowler, W. Union St., told me that the magnolia at their house was planted in 1840. It is a charming one, much smaller than magnolia soulangeana.

One of the first blooming shrubs is the Cornelian Cherry or Cornus Mas. It blooms at the Hulse Hays place on N. Court and Northridge Road. The tree is some 20 feet or more high. The blossoms are yellow and not too showy but they arrive in February.

Mrs. Walter Sale, 131 W. Mound St., says she gardens mostly with annuals. Right now she has a few spring bulbs in bloom and a patch of Thrift. When we asked her what Thrift was she said with her N. Caroline accent, it's what you all call creepin' phlox.

Mark Schumm, N. Pickaway St., lost only three roses, by winter kill. He decided to replace a few others in whose performance he was disappointed. Right now the Schumms have two blooming crabapple trees. They'll be in bloom next week if a big wind storm doesn't spoil them.

There's No Cause To Worry About Late Sprouting Plants

Some plants are slow in putting in an appearance in the spring. Gardeners are urged not to give up hope when certain perennials are late to sprout.

Althea, known more widely as rose of Sharon, is just starting to put forth tiny green buds. Vitex consistently is winter killed, but grows from the root and by late July will be six feet or more.

Our northern hibiscus will show sprouts as late as middle May. Buddleia more often than not will sprout from the roots and bloom in July and August.

Violet jewel berry winter kills in our garden but grows several feet each summer. The cheerful small shrub hypericum or St. Johnswort is not yet showing signs of life.

WHEN WE had crepe myrtle it often did not show signs of life until June. We had this old southern favorite for many years and it bloomed only once. However, several Circleville gardeners do have success with it.

Right now Japanese anemones are beginning to sprout. And the baptisia which ordinarily blooms by the last of May is starting to show life. Lythrum, a favorite in our own garden, is putting up pink, asparagus like tips.

We are still looking for asclepias (Butterfly weed) and platycodon Japanese balloon flower. We think they'll be sprouting eventually.

Bright blue September blooming salvia, patens, is quite tardy as is plumbago the intense blue perennial growing in old gardens.

Polygonum, Reynowtria, a handsome ground cover, is just peeking through the ground now. Eupatorium or Hardy ageratum appears very late.

Many plants show up sooner in a loamy, well drained location than they do in a clay soil. But all the above named may be regarded as latent.

Just keep looking and hoping. It's alright to rake your perennial beds gently, but do not do any deep spading until everything is accounted for.

Reid Sisters Always Pay Homage To Flower Haven as Spring Dawns

If friends had chosen to call on the Misses Martha and Eleanor Reid this past Easter they would not have found the sisters at the N. Pickaway apartment which they share.

The sisters were out wild-flowering on Hepatica Hill, the name they give to a certain place along Darby Creek's Highbanks. Easter was a chilly, breezy day, but Martha and Eleanor Reid kept their tryst with the hepaticas.

Hepaticas are early flowering wildflowers which refuse to wait for real spring to show their pink, blue and white flowers amid nests of leathery bronze foliage. Hepaticas abound at Highbanks.

It would not have been too much of a coincidence if Martha and Eleanor had run across their four other sisters and their two brothers, because the whole family loves Highbanks and makes frequent seasonal pilgrimages there to see the wild flowers.

EVELYN, the eldest — now Mrs. Harry Montelius — believes that she has been coming to Hepatica Hill for about 60 years. She remembers coming with her father, the late William Reid, famed Pickaway County naturalist, in a horse-drawn buggy and roaming the hillsides with him.

Saturday we interviewed the six daughters of William Reid. We chose Highbanks as a fitting place for the conference and indeed it proved to be. The six are: Evelyn (Mrs. Harry Montelius), Avis (Mrs. Harry Sark), Katherine (Mrs. Robert Bower), Merle (Mrs. William Collins) and Martha and Eleanor.

Three are school teachers — Mrs. Bower, Mrs. Collins and Martha Reid. Mrs. Sark has recently retired from teaching.

Incidentally, teaching is a rather appropriate profession for the daughters of William Reid. Their father, aside from being a botanist and nature lover, was an educator and responsible in a large part for Pickaway County's first centralized school (Jackson Twp.). His daughters say he fought for centralization against rather bitter opposition.

The brothers are Ray Reid, oldest of the family, who lives on W. Corwin St. and Paul Reid of London.

The whole family genuinely loves a nature expedition and often get together for a wild flower search or a day roaming the woods.

THE SISTERS are a vivacious lot. Katherine Bower recalled the big grapevine on which they swung out over the ravine.

Avis Sark said that their mother, too, loved the outdoors. Her last expedition had been at Highbanks to see the hepaticas blooming.

Merle Collins told us that if the invitation had been extended to her brothers, they too might have joined the conference.

The sisters recalled that their father knew every bird by its song and every wild flower by its foliage. They said he could identify any tree he saw whether or not it was leafed out.

Martha Reid told us that her father had compiled a list of Pickaway County trees. Both she and her sister, Katherine, treasure the list and give copies of it to their young students.

They say that their father helped classify much of Ohio's flora. He is credited with his findings at the Museum of Natural History.

IN THEIR father's day, there had been a group of gifted and SIX SISTERS AT HIGHBANKS — The Reid Sisters, daughters of the late William Reid, Pickaway County educator and naturalist, love the wild flowers that are to be found on the steep banks of Darby Creek. Here they came as children with their father. And they still hold to the tradition of greeting the hepaticas with a spring pilgrimage. They are, back row left: Eleanor Reid (Pete), Martha Reid, Evelyn Montelius. Front row — Katherine Bower, Merle Collins and Avis Sark.

enthusiastic naturalists within the county. Off hand, the sisters named them as: Ed Daley, Leslie Pontious, Harry Stevenson, Sam Rader, Grant Swearingen and a promising young fellow named Floyd Bartley. Each Sunday this group roamed the woods and hills of Ohio.

U.S. Fair Pavilion Garden Will Feature ARS Roses

A cavalcade of America's top prize-winning roses will be a colorful outdoor attraction of the United States pavilion at the World's Fair.

More than 1,000 plants, all of them All-America Rose Selections award winners, will completely encircle the elevated two-story Federal building, which is expected to be one of the most popular pavilions for foreign and American visitors to the Fair.

The display, a presentation of the American rose industry, will feature some 20 different ARS varieties. Recent winners of this nation's top rose award will be featured along with many of the famous names in ARS rose history.

Names "The 25th Anniversary ARS Garden", it was chosen to pay honor to the 25th year of the ARS awards, which is being celebrated in 1964-65. The All-America Rose award has been conferred to the finest works of the world's rose breeders every year since 1940.

TO PROVIDE a colorful and fragrant welcome to visitors, the roses will appear in four huge, raised planting beds that completely surround each entrance and public walkway to the pavilion.

Essentially, the gardens will be divided by color and will include all variations in tones of that color to achieve a stunning and pleasing harmony of hue. The division will give home gardeners excellent ideas of the range of colors that are available within basic color groups for their own gardens.

Among the celebrated ARS varieties in the red garden will be Chrysler Imperial, John S. Armstrong, Fire King and Charlotte Armstrong.

The pink garden will display Royal Highness, Duet, Tiffany and Queen Elizabeth. The white and pink Garden Party will be blended into this design.

The garden of yellow roses will include the All-America King's Ransom, Sutter's Gold, Peace, the multi-color Circus and the pure white floribunda, Saratoga, the 1964 award winner.

The last planter, a rainbow garden, will exhibit a kaleidoscope of colors. The multicolor Granada, 1964 ARS winner, will be displayed along with orange-red Tropicana, and pinks, Vogue and Fashion.

TWELVE PRIZE hybrid teas, five floribundas and three grandifloras will be on view.

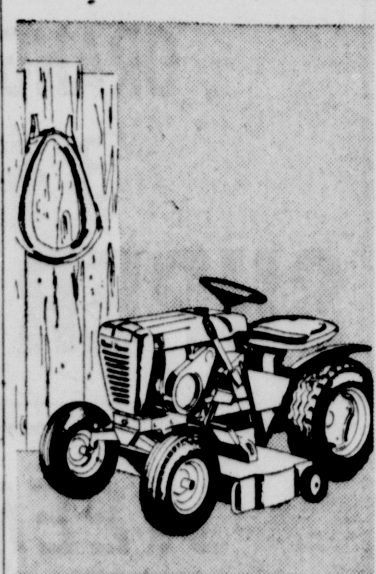

A highlight of the plantings will be the first public showings of the Silver Anniversary award winners, the roses chosen to salute the 25th Anniversary. The 1965 All-America Rose Selections will be unveiled for the first time in any garden. The names of the winners will be announced in June.

Other exhibits will also feature roses at their pavilions. Extensive plantings will be displayed at the House of Good Taste exhibit and in landscape gardens at the New York State Pavilion.

Visitors to New York for the World's Fair will also find a dazzling display worth seeing at the United Nations All-America Rose Garden, where some 1,500 plants bloom in the shadows of this imposing edifice.

Horticulturist Offers Good Garden Hints

Expert Gives Talk On Design during Flower Show School

Frank S. Curto, horticulturist for Phipps Conservatory at Schenley Park in Pittsburgh, lectured on landscape design at Course V of the National Council Flower Show School held in Worthington last week.

A down-to-earth practical gardener himself, he warned his students to keep maintenance in mind. He stated that dream flower gardens which are always at maximum bloom exist only in the mind or on the estates of the rich where a crops of gardeners can "pot sink" plants that have been greenhouse grown.

He went on to give a good account, however, of his own almost always - in - bloom border which was 60 feet long and 10 feet wide.

Curto made a point of drainage. Good drainage is a "must" for virtually all plant materials, he stressed.

HE SAID if a beginning gardener wondered if her border had good drainage she could dig a hole, fill it with water and see if the water was gone within 24 hours. If not she could rest assured the drainage was poor and something should be done. Preferably tilling by an expert.

One cure was to elevate the garden some 18 inches. Use bricks, railroad ties or anything to hold the soil in place.

Curto warned his students to have a water faucet available so that it would not be necessary to drag hundreds of feet of hose around in order to water the garden.

Don't try to garden in the shade. A few plants thrive in light shade but not many, he added.

Curto then listed plants in his own garden that would provide color during several seasons.

Local Entry Is Accepted For Calendar

Announcement was made at the recent National Council Flower Show School in Worthington that Mrs. Schubert Measamer's entry had been accepted for publication in the 1964 calendar.

Mrs. Measamer's entry was a picture of an arrangement she exhibited at the Toledo Regional Convention last fall.

The arrangement won loud acclaim at the convention. Mrs. Measamer was urged by several well known instructors and judges attending to enter its photograph.

The arrangement was made in a wicker cedar jug. Line material was dried wild pansy and small apples cascaded over the side of the jug.

The National Council calendar features the work of top notch arrangers throughout the nation.

Some Trees Beautiful In Winter

For winter beauty there are four not often recommended trees that are particularly lovely following a snow storm.

They are the buckeye, the ailanthus, the catalpa and the pear. All these trees have this in common: they have heavy branches and twigs; snow sticks on them; so each branch and heavy twig is both black and white.

While each has faults, I'd recommend any of the four for the lawn on account of their winter appearance.

Even if there is not snow, these trees are stunning against a winter sky.

Goldwaters Sued By Bill Collector

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater and his son, Barry Jr., are being sued by a dress designer who says he is still owed money for dresses he designed for the Goldwater girls.

Jerry DeLee of Beverly Hills said in his suit he designed 20 dresses for the Arizona Republican's primary at a cost of $1,040, but had been paid only $400.

DeLee's attorney said the dresses were worn at a rally for Goldwater and also at a $100-a-plate dinner held recently in the Sports Arena.

ONE-ACT PLAY — Shuana Humphrey tries on a hat (front center) in this scene from "Hold Onto Your Hat" as (left to right) Anita Moats, Judy Young and Rebecca Alkire look on.

IMPORTANT DATE — Drexel Poling holds several ties as Steve Benner tries them on, trying to decide which one to wear for that important date in "When Girls Ask Boys for Dates" to be presented Friday evening at Logan Elm High School.

One-Act Plays Scheduled Friday by LE Drama Club

Women's hats and men's ties, always the object of fun are principle props for two plays being presented Friday night by the Logan Elm Jesters.

Called "An Evening of Humor" the Jesters, under the direction of Robert Ransom, will present two one act plays: "Hold Onto Your Hat" and "When Girls Ask Boys for Dates". Anita Moats will do a humorous monologue and Becky Walters will present a cutting from "Green Pastures".

The setting for the first play, "Hold Onto Your Hat" is a hat shop operated by "Hattie" played by Marsha Gunder. Her customers are Linda Trimmer, Rebecca Alkire, Shuana Humphrey, Valerie May, Barbara Huber, Barbara McCain, Judy Young. Anita Moats is student director for this play.

Reversing the time honored custom proves very amusing in the second play, "If Girls Asked Boys for Dates". The boys who were asked are Steve Benner and Drexel Poling. Their dates are Ginger Smalley and Janet DeLong. Page Miller is cast in the role of Mrs. Smith, in whose living room the action of the play occurs.

Curtain time for the dramatic program will be 8 p. m. in the school auditorium. Tickets are being sold by senior class members and will be on sale at the door.

Joint Cypriot Patrols Urged

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant was said today to have suggested that the U.N. peace keeping force in Cyprus see if it can establish joint patrols with Greek and Turkish Cypriots "as a means of establishing confidence and promoting a return to normality."

Diplomatic sources said that was one of a series of objectives Thant set forth in a 2½-page paper sent to the force commander, Indian Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani.

The paper was to be published later as part of the secretary-general's latest report to the Security Council on the work of the force that the council sent to Cyprus last month to try to keep peace between Turkish and Greek Cypriots.

Among other reported objectives outlined in the paper were:

—The progressive disarming of all persons other than regular troops, police and gendarmes.

—Control of extremists on both sides.

—Establishment of freedom of movement in all towns and on all roads, including the Nicosia-Kyrenia road.

—A general amnesty.

—The return of refugees to their homes.

—Reintegration of the police force now split into Greek and Turkish Cypriot sections.

—Facilitation of the return of Turkish Cypriots, civil servants and officials to their duties.

In Washington Wednesday, Turkey's foreign minister, Feridun Cemal Erkin, conferred with President Johnson on the explosive Cyprus issue.

The 20-minute conference followed a meeting between the President and the foreign ministers of the Central Treaty Organization — Britain, Turkey, Iran and Pakistan.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Asst. Secretary of State Phillips Talbot, in charge of Middle East and South Asian affairs, sat in on the meetings with Johnson.

Britain's Foreign Minister Richard A. Butler said that in the first meeting with all four of the CENTO foreign ministers, Johnson had a satisfactory talk with them on economic and military developments and the general anti-Communist organization of the central treaty powers.

Probe of Baker Extended Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate gave its Rules Committee an additional month to wind up its Bobby Baker investigation and file a report on findings and recommendations.

The committee's authority to spend funds voted previously for the probe would have expired at midnight Thursday. The resolution, approved without objection, extends this until May 31.

The committee said it has spent about $95,000 on its investigation of the financial affairs of Baker, resigned secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, and has about $20,000 left.

Hollywood Said 'Cruel' For World of Talented

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"This is the cruellest town in the world of talent. Hollywood's full of talented people, but hardly anyone will give them a chance to show what they can do."

Sidney Linden spoke from harsh experience. Thirty years ago he was a baritone with rare promise. A staff singer for CBS, his radio program followed that of a pop crooner. The difference between them was more than singing style; Linden earned $15 vs. Bing Crosby's $500.

The young baritone studied with great teachers who predicted a brilliant career. But success as a singer eluded him. Instead, he became a pen-making millionaire, and now is impresario of a concert hall designed to expose talent whom heartless Hollywood overlooks.

Linden is president of the Lindy Pen Co., which he started as a one-man operation 19 years ago and which now enjoys a $12 million yearly volume.

The pen business and his other enterprises occupy only a part of his day. During most of every afternoon and evening he can be found at the Lindy Opera House, a one-time film theater at Wilshire and Labrea which he converted to a musical showcase for $160,000.

The opera house produces a healthy deficit, which bothers him not a whit.

One of his greatest pleasures is the holding of auditions for new talent to be presented at the opera house. In this regard he stressed "new" and not necessarily "young."

Said he: "Most auditions place all the emphasis on young talent, and I think that is unfortunate. Producers think that anyone past the age of 34 is not suitable for singing jobs. But there are many singers in their late 30s and 40s who have magnificent voices and deserve a chance to be heard."

Seven Candidates Seek Nomination For Pickaway Representative Post

PAUL G. PECK

The race for party nomination as Pickaway County's representative to the State Legislature is one of the major contests on Tuesday's ballot, with seven men seeking nominations.

Local political circles feel Ed Wallace's announcement earlier this year that he would not seek re-election is the biggest factor in the comparatively large number of candidates. There are four Democrats and three Republicans seeking nomination.

Here are the candidates, their backgrounds and brief personal histories:

DEMOCRATS

Paul G. Peck, Route 1, New Holland, is a Deercreek Twp. native and graduate of Clarksburg High School. He has been engaged in farming all his life.

Peck served 12 years as a member of the County Soil Conservation District supervisory board. He was 1959 winner of the Goodyear Award, presented to the outstanding soil conservationist of the year.

He has been a 4-H club adviser and a member of the Pickaway County Agriculture Society. He served several terms on the Perry Twp. Board of Education.

Peck is a member of the New Holland Masonic Lodge and the county Historical Society. He is a charter member of the Clarksburg Grange and belongs to the Farm Bureau Co-Op Assn. He and his family are members of the Atlanta Methodist Church.

He and his wife, Ellen, have three children and nine grandchildren.

Hewitt Cromley, a Walnut Twp. farmer, is a member of the Ashville Methodist Church and is active in national, state, Pomona and Scioto Valley Granges. He raises purebred Angus cattle on his farm.

Cromley is a member of the Ashville Knights of Pythias and is a past chancellor of the lodge. He holds a membership in the Circleville BPO Elks Lodge and is vice president of the Ohio Cattle Feeders Assn.

He attended Ohio State University and is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity. Cromley worked with the State Auditor's office in adjusting the personal farm tax sheet in 1964.

He and his wife, Martha, have two daughters and one grandchild.

Dr. Walter F. Heine, 109 E. Mound St., is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and received his medical degree from Ohio State University. He is also a graduate of the U. S. Army Medical School, Washington, D. C.

Dr. Heine served in both World War I and World War II and was surgeon of the Fourth Air Force Replacement Center at Fresno, Calif.

Following retirement from the U.S. Army with the rank of lieutenant colonel, he came to Circleville and was engaged in general practice until July 1, 1959 at which time he accepted a position with the medical examiner for the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, Columbus, where he is currently employed.

HEWITT CROMLEY

DAVID E. McDONALD

Dr. Heine is a member of the First Methodist Church, the Pickaway County and Ohio State Medical Societies and a former member of Berger Hospital's Board of Governors. He is a member of the BPO Elks.

He and his wife, Louise, have three children and 11 grandchildren.

Roy H. Huffer Jr., Northridge Road, is a native Pickaway Countian and recently passed his bar examination. He is to be admitted to the bar association as a practicing attorney on May 6.

Huffer is a graduate of Circleville High School. He was graduated from Ohio State University where he majored in political science and government.

In January he received a bachelor of laws degree from Franklin University, Columbus, where he had been attending evening classes for the past four years. While attending law school, Huffer worked for the Ohio Department of Taxation. He also worked on the school's newspaper.

The new attorney is currently associated with his brother, Robert H. Huffer, in the practice of law. He also maintains a real estate salesman's license with Robert E. Adkins, local broker.

Huffer is a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, BPO Elks Lodge and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He and his wife, the former Marilyn Crawford, have four children.

REPUBLICANS

David E. (Mac) McDonald, Route 3, was born near New Concord, O., and grew up in that community. He was graduated from Muskingum College in 1937 with a major in business administration and political science.

He spent four years in sales promotion work with the Seiberling Rubber Co., Akron. He served with the U. S. Air Force in the United States and in the European Theater of Operations. He was deputy commander of the 50th Fighter Group when discharged in 1945. He then rejoined the rubber firm.

LBJ's Dog-Care Has Supporters

NEW YORK (AP)—A few defenders have joined the dog-fight over President Johnson's handling of his beagles. The President still is in the doghouse with many persons for lifting the dogs by their ears.

As the President's ears were boxed by dog lovers, who set up a chorus of helps about his handling of the beagles, Him and Her, on Monday, a dog expert overseas came to his defense.

Bernard Workman of London, chairman of the canine defense league, said today, "I don't believe that a beagle comes to any harm by picking it up by the ears. Their ears are particularly strong."

A defender of the President was Melvin Schlesinger, president of a Kansas City kennel club, who said all the barking was just "Republican propaganda."

YOUTH DAY — Circleville Mayor Ben Gordon signs a proclamation declaring tomorrow as Elks Youth Day here. Dr. William A. Rickey, exalted ruler of the local lodge looks on. BPO Elks are celebrating the event across the nation.

Elks Proclaim Youth Day Here

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks across the Nation will be celebrating Elks National Youth Day tomorrow, it was announced by Dr. William A. Rickey, exalted ruler of Circleville Elks Lodge No. 77.

This is in contrast to the communist countries who are also celebrating Red May Day on May 1, with parades and demonstrations to exploit youth for the spread of communism and atheism. Youth day under the sponsorship of the Order of Elks, however, points up the juvenile decency of the great majority of young people, in contrast to the juvenile delinquency of just a few.

Millions of dollars are spent on Youth projects throughout the Order of Elks and much time and effort on the part of brother Elks to continue to promote wholesome activities among young people. In addition scholarships are awarded to deserving students and savings bonds and cash awards given to those qualified for leadership.

While communist countries are rallying their youth to spread propaganda the Elks of the nation and in Circleville are backing young people with adult guidance as well as money, on a year round basis that they may keep the true perspective of Americanism.

Climaxing this program, the Ohio Elks Assn. at their 66th Annual Convention in Columbus will host Youth from all parts of Ohio at the Annual Youth Day Luncheon on May 2 with Elks and state officials making awards to honor youth of Ohio.

During the past five years, this program, as held by the Ohio Elks Assn. has been awarded four first places in the Nations of all Elks State Assn.

The Circleville Elks have sponsored the All-County Junior - Senior Prom for the past 10 years. The event, a highlight of the social year for city and county school students, will be held May 8 in the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum. Dick Welch and his orchestra will provide the music.

The local organization actively participates in the Youth Leadership contest, another annual event sponsored by the Elks.

John Fissell, 354 Cedar Heights Road, is chairman of Youth Day activities here.

Views on Television—Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The history of Charles de Gaulle since the fall of France at the outset of World War II, said CBS correspondent Charles Collingwood Wednesday night, is "all mixed up in the history of modern France."

Thus "CBS Reports" first of two hour-long programs dedicated to an examination of the life and character of the president of France spent almost as much time on the nation's recent history as it did on the man. There just was not much time left in which to dig very deep.

Too much ground had to be covered — a world war in which De Gaulle, now 73, led the Free French forces, his return to head the government, political bickering and early retirement only to return to government in another great emergency.

The hour had too much backgrounding and rehashing of well-known events for even the casual student of foreign affairs, and too skimpy a fill-in for those who had forgotten if they ever knew, of De Gaulle's long and stormy career as savior of France.

Still, it was a brave attempt to reduce to a few minutes subjects about which shelves of books have been and are being written. And it may help Americans to understand better what Collingwood described as "the aloof imperious, monarchical figure forever in a storm of controversy but whose passionate love of country has never been questioned."

Ed Sullivan isn't the only importer of offbeat English quartets. Reg Skelton will have "The Snobs" on his Tuesday night CBS show — four 17-year-olds who stomp and harmonize attired in 17th century clothes, including powdered wigs.

Milwaukee's Bonus Baby Hurls 1-Hitter

Cloninger Wins Over Pirates as Stargell Singles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tony Cloninger said he had been throwing curve balls all night—so he was looking for another one.

Stargell said Cloninger had been throwing him curve balls all night—so he was looking for another one.

Willie was right. Tony curved him, Willie rapped a single to right with two out in the seventh inning and ruined Cloninger's bid for a no-hitter.

But Cloninger, a 23-year-old right-hander who got a $100,000 bonus from the Milwaukee Braves and was expected to start paying dividends this year, went on to pitch a one-hitter and a 1-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

That evened Cloninger's record on the year at 1-1. The loss was to Houston's Ken Johnson, who later went on to pitch his no-hitter—and lose.

"I'd rather pitch a one-hitter and win," said Cloninger.

In other National League action, the Los Angeles Dodgers won their fourth straight game, 7-2 over Houston, the San Francisco Giants dumped the Chicago Cubs 4-0 and the St. Louis Cardinals edged the New York Mets 4-3 in 11 innings. The Philadelphia at Cincinnati game was rained out.

In the American League, Baltimore defeated Boston 4-2 as Wes Stock won his 10th straight in relief for the Orioles, Don Demeter's 10th-inning home run gave Detroit a 5-4 triumph over Kansas City and Los Angeles whipped Washington 5-1 as Bob Lee and Bob Dilliba combined for a three-hitter. The Chicago at New York and Cleveland at Minnesota games were rained out.

Victim of Cloninger's one-hitter was Bob Veale, who threw a six-hitter for the Pirates. Felipe Alou singled the only Milwaukee run across in the third.

Don Nottebart of Houston, who had a no-hitter last year, flirted with another one against the Dodgers—and it looked for a while as if he might duplicate Johnson's losing effort. Although he had not allowed a hit, Nottebart trailed 1-0 with two out in the seventh.

Then rookie John Werhas broke it up with a single. Werhas batted in three runs on the night. Another rookie, Nick Willhite, pitched the victory, a five-hitter. He was the latest Dodger to step in and take up the slack left by injuries to Sandy Koufax and Johnny Podres.

The Dodgers, who lifted their season mark to 6-9, now have allowed only three runs in their last four games.

Wildcats Earn Victory in District Play

The Jackson High School baseball nine moved one step further along the tournament trail yesterday, defeating host team Madison South, 7-3, in Class A Central District play.

Meredith O'Dell, the Wildcats' junior southpaw hurler, was credited with the win.

He worked seven innings, walking two, fanning eight and allowing four hits. He was relieved by Ed Martindale in the seventh, who pitched to four men, walking in one run and allowing a hit for a second run.

O'Dell was moved back to the mound by Jackson coach Paul Hoskins and finished the game.

STEVE STEWART started for Madison South, pitching 5 2-3 innings. He walked two fanned two and was touched for four hits. Harrington finished the game, fanning three and giving up three hits.

The lone extra base hit of the game was a double by Ed Martindale. Bruce List banged out a pair of singles for the winners, who scored six runs in the fifth inning.

Jackson will now play at Liberty Union as soon as the weather permits.

Strickland Has Praise For Indians

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — From what he has seen in the first two weeks of the baseball season, manager George Strickland thinks his Cleveland Indians have a fine potential.

The Indians, who were hanging onto first place by 42 percentage points going into today's game against the Minnesota Twins, have shown flashes of good pitching and power. Strickland noted that in Tuesday's contest here, which the Indians lost 9-8 in 10 innings, the Tribe came charging back from a 7-2 deficit and nearly won the game.

"If we can get that kind of hitting to go with the good pitching we've had, look out," he declared.

The Tribe mentor noted also that the Indians won five in a row "with nobody but John Romano in a real hot streak."

The 29-year-old catcher's sensational hitting streak has him leading the league with a .419 average. He has 13 hits in his last 27 times at bat.

"During that stretch," said Strickland, "we got some pretty good pitching—and I don't think it was a fluke. Sure, I wish we had another established starter. But I'm confident that our pitching will be all right."

Tigers, Cavaliers Are Co-Favorites At Invitational

CHILLICOTHE — Circleville's Tigers and host Chillicothe rate as slim pre-meet favorites for the fourth annual Chillicothe High School Invitational Track meet here Friday night.

Joining the two co-favorites in the meet are four other schools, all invading with some outstanding individual performers. Greenfield, Logan, Fairfield - Union and Athens are the other entries.

Defending champion Lancaster will not return but the host Cavaliers, winners of the first two meets should cause plenty of trouble.

Preliminaries start at 6:15 p. m. in the running events with the finals slated for 6:50 p. m. Finals in the field events start at 6:15 p. m. Admission is free.

Circleville is paced by hurdler Jim Wood and high jumper Doug Price. Wood, a junior has been clocked in 15.1 in the high hurdles and 19.3 in the low's and jumper Price has a 5-10 leap to his credit.

Chillicothe has two outstanding field men in pole vaulter Jim Lusher, a junior with a 12-0 vault, and senior discus thrower Dale Jones. Jones has hurled the discus over 150 feet several times. CHS sprinter Bob Fain was clocked in 10.2 in the 100 yard dash on Tuesday.

Darrell Myers of Fairfield-Union is one of the better distance runners and Greenfield's George Beatty and Ken DeVeau of Athens are tops in the 440 field. Athens also has two fine dashmen in Alan Miller and DeVeau and a good high jumper in Phil Rose, who holds the meet record.

Here are the CHS Invitational Meet Records:

120 Yd. High Hurdles — Co-canour, Lancaster, 15.6;
100 Yd. Dash—Rivers, Chillicothe, Effinger, Lancaster, 10.3;

Californians Have Hopes For Their Entry in Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—California, which in years past has seen many of its fine thoroughbreds eating dust—or mud—at the finish of the Kentucky Derby, is making a big move to monopolize the classic for 3-year-olds.

This year's short-priced favorite, Hill Rise, is from George A. Pope Jr.'s El Peco Ranch, located near Madera, Calif. Two years ago Pope's Decidedly won the Derby. Last year Candy Spots, from the California stable of Rex Ellsworth, was the big favorite but finished third.

Hill Rise, who won Tuesday's Derby Trial in a breeze, was expected to top a list of 13 definite starters named today to run in Saturday's $125,000-added 1 1/4-mile Derby. Two other colts were considered possibilities.

Those slated for sure to oppose Hill Rise are Northern Dancer, Quadrangle, Mr. Brick, the Scoundrel, Roman Brother, Dandy K., Mr. Moonlight, Wil Rad, Ishkoodah, Prince Davelle, Royal Shuck and Extra Swell.

The owners of Clem Pac and He's A Gem also were expected to put up the $250 it took to pass through the entry box today and then decide later whether to start.

The race will be televised

Want Ads GR 4-3131

from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m. EST. over CBS. Post time for the Derby is 4:30.

Hill Rise, with eight straight wins, will be out to add more prestige to West Coast racing and is expected to go off a much stronger favorite than Candy Spots.

Swaps, Decidedly and Morvich are the only California-breds in 90 years to win the historic race. But there is every indication that this average is going up fast.

The weather remained a big factor in the first jewel of the Triple Crown. Rain fell much of Wednesday but did not have seriously affect on the track. The long-range forecasts calls for a little more moisture before Derby Day.

Racing fans began pouring into Louisville today and officials at Churchill Downs predict a record crowd for the Derby if the weather is good. Regardless of the weather, at least the traditional 100,000 are expected to witness the race.

DIXIE L. WATTERS

DWIGHT E. RADCLIFF

WALTON W. SPANGLER

Sheriff's Race In Primary Held to Democratic Ballot

The voting for sheriff in the Primary Election Tuesday will be confined to the Democratic ballot.

Democratic candidates are Walton W. Spangler, the incumbent and Dwight E. Radcliff. Dixie L. Watters, an independent candidate, is already assured of having his name on the ballot for the general election in November.

The Republican Party has no candidate for the office.

Radcliff is a veteran deputy sheriff, serving in that capacity for almost eight years when his father, Charles H. Radcliff, was sheriff.

He has been employed with the sales department of Kenny

Hannan Ford, Inc., for the past three years.

Radcliff, a native of this community, is a 1950 graduate of Circleville High School. He is active in many civic and community functions.

At present the candidate is chairman of the Distinguished Service Awards Committee, a Circleville Jaycees panel which helps in the selection of the outstanding Young Man of this community.

He is a member of the Circleville BPO Elks Lodge. In 1963 he served as county division chairman for the Pickaway County Community Fund. He and his family are members of the First Methodist Church.

Active in the Democratic Party, he currently is serving as a committeeman of the city's first ward.

Radcliff served on various committees with the Buckeye State Sheriff's Assn. while he was a deputy. These posts included the original body named to establish a standard radio code for all sheriff departments in the state and the panel which assisted in setting up emergency communications for travelers using Ohio Freeways.

He and his wife, the former Betty Lou Bircher, have three children, Vicki Sue, 8, Dwight Charles, 6, and Robert Bryan, 2. They live at 250 Walnut Creek Pike.

Incumbent Sheriff Spangler, is seeking his second term as county's chief law enforcement officer.

He defeated Guy Leatherwood the GOP candidate, at the polls in November of 1960 after waging a successful campaign in the Democratic Primary Election of that year.

Prior to his election as sheriff, Spangler was engaged in farming. He also was associated with the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation and has served in the U. S. Army.

Active in civic and community affairs, Spangler is the master of Washington Grange and Chairman of the Pickaway County Crippled Children's Society. He is superintendent of the Ringgold EUB Church and a member of the Church's board of trustees. He also is an alumnus of Walnut Twp. High School.

He is currently serving his third year as a director of the Buckeye State Sheriff's Assn. He is a member of two committees of the state organization.

He is married to the former Annabelle Norris. They have three children, Carol, 16, Warren, 13 and Karen, 10. They reside in the sheriff's residence at 121 W. Franklin St.

Watters, 35, lives at 818 S. Court St. His name will not appear on Tuesday's ballots in that he is an independent candidate.

A native Pickaway Countian, Watters attended Pickaway Twp. School. He has a varied background in law enforcement, in addition to farming.

After his discharge from the service, Watters returned to his position with the Circleville Police Department.

In January 1961 he was employed as a deputy by Sheriff Spangler. He served in this capacity until July of 1963 when he returned to the Circleville Police Department as a special officer.

The independent candidate is a member of the Fraternal Order of Police and the American Legion. He and his family attend the First EUB Church.

Watters is married to the former Rosemary Stonerock. They have two children, Stephen, 8, and Scott, 3.

Americans Maintain Alert on Okinawa

NAKA, Okinawa (AP)—"We will remain here so long as threats and tensions continue to exist."

The threats referred to are from Communist China.

The tensions have gripped this part of the world 19 years. Here happens to be Okinawa, a 67-mile-long island, believed to be Uncle Sam's most important nuclear weapons base in the Far East. It is 15 minutes, as the jets fly, from Red China.

The statement about remaining here was made by Lt. Gen. Paul W. Caraway, high commissioner to the Ryukyu Islands since 1961.

"We're here for national security and to fulfill our commitments to the free world," Caraway told The Associated Press. "We can only carry out that task if we are unimpeded."

Asked about a suggestion that political control of the Ryukyus be returned to Japan with the United States still retaining its vast network of air and military bases, Caraway replied "anything is possible."

"Article Three of the Japanese peace treaty says the United States is given—and the Japanese agreed to it—any and all powers of administration, legislative and judicial, in the Ryukyu Islands. The United States can exercise these powers so long as it wishes," he said.

Asked if Okinawa actually might be written off in case of an all-out war because of its proximity to the Chinese mainland, Caraway snapped:

"This is an attitude that is developing in the United States, especially among Washington newsmen. We will remain here so long as threats and tensions continue to exist."

One school of thought among this island's 95,000 American inhabitants, including the 3rd Marine Division, is that Okinawa would be safer than the mainland since both the Communists and the United States would be blasting at each other's homeland in case of atomic war.

Okinawa is known as "the billion-dollar base," but that figure can't include all Uncle Sam has invested here. The whole island is one mighty base. Military and civilian roads, telephone systems, water and power networks are completely integrated.

Bases on Japan have been emasculated, so far as any true strength is concerned, because of left-wing opposition to nuclear weapons or the basing there of planes or vessels which transport them.

"We are here to meet our security arrangements with our allies," Caraway declared. "We're here to protect the Western Pacific from aggression."

Caraway retires Aug. 1 and will be succeeded by Lt. Gen. Albert Watson II. The job is the nearest thing the United States has had to a governor-general in the Philippines. And that is the position some Americans in Okinawa want Caraway and his successor to have.

"We need an organic act by Congress which will put the Ryukyus in a commonwealth status, such as we have Puerto Rico, Guam, or used to have in the Philippine Islands," says Howard McClellan, president of the American Chamber of Commerce on Okinawa.

McClellan and other Americans here hold that a commonwealth status is necessary until such time as the islands revert to Japan.

Castro Vague

He said the United States has known for a long time that Cuban personnel was being trained and that those weapons were going to be turned over to the Cuban army.

In Moscow, U. S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler and Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan got into a cocktail party argument Wednesday night about American reconnaissance flights over Cuba.

"There was no meeting of minds," Kohler told newsmen after the exchange, described by witnesses as amiable but firm. The conversation took place at a Japanese Embassy reception.

Mikoyan brought up the subject of continued U2 flights over Cuba, reiterating the Soviet contention that the overflights were illegal under international law.

Kohler repeated President Johnson's view that the United States had the right to continue the flights because Cuba had refused on-site inspection to confirm withdrawal of Soviet missiles in October 1962.
